Attorney General McGraw Files A Petition for Contempt Against IGIA, Inc. For Violating A February 28, 2007 Order

Today, Attorney General Darrell McGraw filed a petition for contempt against IGIA, Inc., a Delaware corporation that markets household products through infomercials and the Internet. On February 28, 2007 IGIA entered into an agreed final order with the Attorney General wherein it agreed to pay more $176,000 in civil penalties to be used for consumer restitution. IGIA had agreed to pay the State $10,000 per month until the civil penalties were paid. IGIA did not make its payment that was due on November 5, 2007, in violation of the agreed order.

The Attorney General sued IGIA for consumer protection violations in connection with its sale and marketing of vacuum cleaners for sale under the names Windstorm, Singer Lazer Storm, and Milinëx Power Storm.
